Gangadhar Meher University, Sambalpur is the realisation of long aspirations as initially Sambalpur College and then Gangadhar Meher College gets upgraded to a University. With a new identity the University has a long way to go fulfilling many expectations and promises and establishing itself as a thriving centre of higher learning and research. A dedicated effort from each stakeholder is essential to put the University on top.

My best wishes to the University and I am sure it will rise to every occasion and glorify its existence.
