ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

There is a high demand for quality education in global perspectives in elementary, secondary, higher education as well as in teacher education to a great extent. Day by day, human needs are changing likewise innovations are being emerged to fulfill the diversified human needs. In the field of teaching-learning process also a shift has been found from traditional classrooms to a constructivist classroom, where students actively interact with their environment and create knowledge of their own. With the passage of time and advancement of technology the concept of e-learning came into existence which indicates imparting and facilitating knowledge on media, electronic device viz: internet, CD-ROMs, DVDs, streaming media etc. The concept of e-learning is synonymous with online education, virtual knowledge, web-based education, networked education. It empowers students to absorb personal accomplishment in academic institutions. The e-learning has its significance for both teachers and students. It allows teachers a higher degree of coverage to deliver the subject matter regularly in an effective manner. It enables learners to access knowledge and information in an easier way. In education, formative and summative assessments both play a vital role to measure the strength and weaknesses of the learner and teachers; in this regard e-portfolios are used. This e-portfolio provides rich resources for both students and teachers so that they learn about critical achievement over time, make connections among specific components of the curriculum, gain insights leading to the development and develop identities as learners or as facilitators of learning. So, both e-learning and e-portfolio play a vital role in the field of education which can be regarded as the agent of promoting quality education throughout the world. Realizing the importance of e-learning and e-portfolio the workshop is planned to be organized for the benefits of teachers and students.
