

Workshop on Strategies to Enhance Research Visibility, Impact & Citations

This workshop will introduce concepts about making research contributions visible in the academic world, such as suitable presentation of scientific results to the academic world and publishing a paper in high quality scientific journals is only halfway towards receiving citations in the future. The rest of the journey is dependent on disseminating the publications via proper utilization of the "Research Tools." This workshop will provide you various techniques to increase the visibility and the impact of research work.

Objectives

- To increase the visibility and accessibility of published papers
- To increase the chance of publication being cited
- To disseminate publications in the academic world through research tools
- To increase chances of national and international collaboration
